

THE FIRST SARF SEMINAR IN THE SOUTHERN CAPE/KAROO REGION WAS HELD IN GEORGE 28 MAY 2013.

The first seminar in the Southern Cape/Karoo Region was held in George on 28 May 2013, as part of SARF's expansion programme to better service their members, and hopefully recruit new members, in this area.

The highly successful one-day seminar on Hand-laid Hot-mix Asphalt, which consisted of a morning theoretical session by John Onraët, Marketing Director of Much Asphalt, and an afternoon practical session, was well received by an enthusiastic group of 60 delegates.

The Southern Cape/Karoo Region is experiencing difficult times in the civil engineering construction industry due mainly to the poor economy and political situation in this somewhat neglected area and SARF's presence is being seen as a welcome boost to the region, particularly in the field of education and training.

A Sub-committee is currently being formed to assist with, inter alia, running the region and advising on what courses/seminars would be appropriate in the region.
